ORGANISE A VIRTUAL QUIZ NIGHT

BREAST

& care charity

Is there anyone that doesn't love a quiz night? Invite your friends and family for fun-filled night to find out who really knows it all.

It's really easy to organise a virtual quiz night with your family and friends, just follow these steps:

1 Pick a date and time
You can then invite all your friends and family on Skype, Zoom, or Kahoot.

2 Collect donations
Ask players for a donation to enter the quiz – simply set up a JustGiving page to collection donations. Any money you raise will come directly to Breast Cancer Now!

3 Choose a prize
Make sure you can easily send the prize to the winner by post, or by dropping off locally if you can.

4 Prepare your questions!
The most important part of the night! Have a think about what you'll focus on – what's each round about? Sports? Local trivia?

Schedule in a break

Between rounds, it's a good idea to schedule in an interval or two, so guests can grab a drink or a snack. You can use the interval to talk about Breast Cancer Now and tell people why you're raising money for us, too!

Get quizzing!

You're ready, hold your virtual quiz and let us know how it goes! We can't wait to hear all about it.

Our online quizzes have been particularly successful. They are giving people welcome relief during lockdown - plus they get very competitive! I see it as an opportunity to provide a 'feel good' situation in unprecedented times - and, most importantly, by continuing to help others.

Top quiz tips from Team Now!

- Sometimes local businesses will donate prizes for a charity quiz. Email some local businesses to ask!
- You can boost your fundraising using your JustGiving page, why not offer people clues in exchange for a donation?
- Need some question ideas? A family trivia round is fun for those who know each other well! And a picture round is a good way to give your voice a break on the night, too!
- Make sure you have fun! Why not give people bonus points for fancy dress?
